Improv Corporate Training

Workshop Structure Offerings

Red Ladder Theatre Company offers workshops in the creative process, using the tools and techniques of improvisational theatre to develop creative thinking and problem-solving skills. These workshops can be structured in a variety of ways to meet the needs of our partner organizations. The following are suggestions for a variety of potential structures for workshops or workshop series. If you're not sure exactly what your organization might need, we can work with you to help you figure that out!

Workshop One-Shots

A one-time workshop with your group or organization, these One-Shots are great for staff retreats. Can be done as a partial day (three hour format recommended) to be paired with other planned retreat activities, or a full day (with or without a “working” lunch).

Workshop Intensive

If you're really looking to capitalize on the skills that can be developed through the improv process, Red Ladder can offer a workshop intensive series. Designed to take place on multiple consecutive days, each workshop will build on the skills, successes and concepts developed in the previous day's workshop. This model offers a more lasting impact.

Ongoing Partnerships

Designed to keep creative problem-solving skills fresh and at the forefront of business activity, Red Ladder can offer workshops at regular intervals over the course of the year. Monthly, bi-monthly, weekly — whatever fits your schedule — these ongoing partnerships will continue to infuse your organization with creativity over the long-term.

Skill-Specific Workshops

Improvisational theatre workshops develop a wide range of skills and abilities. Red Ladder will work with your organization, department or team to focus a particular workshop (or series of workshops) on the skill(s) you are hoping to develop through the process.

Design Your Own Workshop (Series)

The advantage of improvisation is its flexibility. Red Ladder has worked for years with partner organizations to develop brand new exercises and activities tailored to the needs of a particular group. Let us know what it is you are looking for, and we can work to design a workshop (or series of workshops) to meet those goals. Remember, when you use your imagination, anything is possible!
