The Complete World of Sports (abridged)

Just in time for Father's Day comes 'The Complete World of Sports (abridged)'. Is bowling really a sport? What about poker or competitive eating? Who invented curling and synchronized swimming and why in the world are they in the Olympics? From the earliest cavemen playing "Neanderthal in the Middle" to your own kid's soccer practice, the lunacy of sports collides with quirky wit in a "tour-de-farce" of physical theatre.

Since its 1981 origins as a pass-the-hat act in California, the Reduced Shakespeare Company® has created seven stage shows, two television specials, several TV pilots, and numerous radio pieces - all of which have been performed, seen, and heard the world over. The company's itinerary has included stops at the White House, the Kennedy Center, Lincoln Center, London's West End, Seattle Repertory Theatre, American Repertory Theatre, and Montreal's Just For Laughs Festival, as well as performances in Israel, Australia, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Japan, Malta, Belgium, The Netherlands, Singapore, and Bermuda - plus countless civic and university venues throughout the USA, Great Britain, and Ireland.

One-Man Star Wars™

Three movies, one man, and a galaxy far, far away. Charles Ross takes us on a hilarious re-creation of the original Star Wars™ trilogy. Ross plays all the characters, recreates the effects, sings from John Williams' score, flies the ships, and fights both sides of the lightsaber battles. Complete with captivating facts and editorial asides, this one-of-a-kind theatrical tribute to this sci-fi classic is sure to make for a side-splitting evening.

Ross has performed One-Man Star Wars™ more than 1,200 times in more than 180 cities across four continents. From Off-Broadway in New York to London's West End, from Dubai's resorts to the Glastonbury Music Festival, in small towns, big cities, at fundraisers, and at Lucasfilm's own Star Wars™ conventions. This show has been places.
